the kids once a week so everyone could have a treat. Popsicles and O Henry chocolate bars were popular for 10 cents.

For twenty-seven years it was called Bill's Corner Service. After that it was rented as a Craft Store, then as a restaurant.

Bill and Ethel Lee also ran the business as a bulk station too for a time. There have been various renters throughout the years. At present, the property is still owned by descendants of Bill and Ethel.

Recently this restaurant has been renamed Rancher's Corner. In 2020, take out menus, including pizza, were added to the menu, due to covid regulations.
